Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 10 December 2007.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-7 is/are pending in the application.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 USC § 112 first and second paragraphs. This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on September 27, 2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 USC § 103(a). This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on September 27, 2007.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: "uncalendared" should be changed to – uncalendered--. Appropriate correction is required.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed on December 10, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that there are sufficient evidence in the specification for what it is claimed. The arguments are not convincing, because there is nothing in the specification that teaches or suggest how a calendering process increases the caliper of a web. The calendering process described in the specification includes rolls through which a web, tissue, is passed through a nip formed by those rolls, i.e. compressing the web. The examiner is at loss as to how this operation could increase the caliper of the web that is passed through said nip. At the very best the caliper should be the same as the initial caliper, i.e. the caliper before passing the web through the nip, when the rolls form a gap rather than a nip, i.e. no pressure exerted on the web. The examiner could not find anything on the specification that describes a calendering operation that actually increase the caliper and applicants have not point out any specific part(s) of the specification that teaches and/or proves that this is possible.

The specification is very clear that the embossing increases the bulk, caliper of the tissue, and by the nature of the embossing process, the calendering of the embossed tissue does not decrease the gained bulk to ordinary/conventional levels, i.e., compared to the unembossed, uncalendered tissue, See figure below:

With regard to the arguments the prior art arguments, these, the arguments, are unconvincing, because the combination of references teaches the same process and the calendering of the stretched embossed webs would produce a web that would have an increased caliper with respect to the unembossed and uncalendered web. The references teach the decrease of the caliper by calendering, because that's what calendering does, densify the web, but the final caliper would be greater than the caliper of the uncalendered web.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
